Pre-conference Seminars, Wednesday, March 12, 2008

FULL DAY PRE-CONFERENCE SEMINARS: 10:00am – 4:00pm

SESSION A: Dr. Pat Feehan

Powerful (and fun) Programming in the Library Media Center

Columbia Metropolitan Convention Center

An all-day, hands-on workshop for designing programs with a “user interface” (kids and books) in mind. Let Dr. Pat Feehan from the School of Library and Information Science at the University of South Carolina help you put more fun (and substance) in your library programming with stories, puppets, creative dramatics, films and other activities associated with library service to young people.

Elementary, Middle, High School

SESSION B: Heather South

Disaster Preparedness in the Library Media Center

South Carolina Department of Archives & History

Disasters come in all shapes and sizes and can happen anytime to anyone. It is vital to start thinking about planning today so that your library collection is protected. This full-day workshop will combine lectures and a hands-on mock disaster to teach library media specialists how to recover wet books and documents as well as other media that can be found in their collections. You will also be introduced to new tools and resources to help you establish your own disaster plan. Please wear casual clothing and shoes that you don't mind getting wet. This hands-on session will involve water and handling wet, dirty materials. Limited to 42 participants. Elementary, Middle, High School

SESSION C: Annette Lamb

E-scrapbooking Synergy: Where Natural and Virtual Worlds Meet

Columbia Metropolitan Convention Center

From local history videos to digital science fairs, authentic technology projects bring learning to life. Combine the power of place-based learning and technology tools to create synergy in your library. Promote deep understandings and address individual differences by combining the power of primary sources with student-produced text, photographs, graphs, audio, and video. Try out seven inquiry-based, e-scrapbooking starters that will boost student success across the curriculum.

Elementary, Middle, High School

SESSION D: Frank Baker and Martha Alewine

Do you have K.A.T.S. in your Library?

Columbia Metropolitan Convention Center

Join Martha and Frank to learn how to herd K.A.T.S. in your library! Knowledge, Attitudes, Technology, and Skills are the staples of a quality library program. Matching the K.A.T.S. in your library to the curriculum through information and media literacy builds support and advocates. Hands-on, fun activities will provide ideas and strategies for taming your K.A.T.S. Elementary, Middle, High School

SESSION E : Richland One Instructional Technology Team - Linda Bartone,

Arischa Conner, Julia Davis, Patsy Dolder, Elizabeth Kohut, MaryAnn Sansonetti

Power Up to the Future...with Web 2.0!

Instructional Technology Services - Olympia

Be in the know! Spend a day with the Richland One Technology Educators finding out about wikis, blogs, and other Web 2.0 online tools. We'll explore ways these technologies can be used as media center and classroom tools for communication and collaboration. Elementary, Middle, High School

MORNING PRE-CONFERENCE SEMINARS: 10:00am – 12:30pm

 SESSION F: Larry Johnson

Survive and Thrive: Strategies for Leadership and Collaboration

Columbia Metropolitan Convention Center

To survive and thrive, your school library media program must play an indispensable role in the life of your school. This session provides practical leadership and collaboration techniques for invigorating your program by connecting to essential school functions, nurturing critical relationships, establishing exciting learning environments, and demonstrating the unique value of you and your program.

Elementary, Middle, High School

 SESSION G: Ellen Shuler and Helen Fellers

Shooting for the Stars: Improving Literacy in South Carolina

Center for Children's Books and Literacy-South Carolina State Library

Come check out the new trends in children's literature and preview the new books of the season. Come see what resources the Center has to offer you and your schools. Learn how the Center is helping to improve literacy in South Carolina one day at a time. Limited to 25 participants. Elementary, Middle, High School

AFTERNOON PRE-CONFERENCE SEMINARS: 1:30pm – 4:00pm

 SESSION H: Larry Johnson

Building Partnerships

Columbia Metropolitan Convention Center

Like panning for gold, the school library media specialist must collaborate with teachers and administrators to sift through tons of data to discover the "nuggets" that will address the needs of learners. This session focuses on strategies for building collaborative relationships and developing effective, evidence-based programs that increase student achievement.

Elementary, Middle, High School

 SESSION I: Leslie Tetreault, Richland County Public Library

Check out the Latest and Greatest!

Columbia Metropolitan Convention Center

There are so many terrific books for children and teens! Hear about the latest and greatest from the Richland County Public Librarians who keep up with them all! Delve into various genres and get tips on great promotional and read-aloud ideas that will energize your school's literature program. Additionally, content area tie-ins and non-fiction titles that support the standards will be highlighted. Participants will receive numerous specialized bibliographies for readers of all ages. This pre-conference is a must for all school library media specialists working to meet the challenge of improving literacy across the curriculum. Elementary, Middle, High School

 SESSION J: Riverbanks Zoo Educational Staff

Riverbanks Zoo and Garden

This hands-on workshop is a great time to learn ways to link your teaching in the library to the resources of Riverbanks Zoo. It will also explain effective ways to get the most out of each visit to the Riverbanks Zoo and Gardens and will provide you with resources to take back to the classroom teachers at your school! Limited to 50 participants. Elementary, Middle, High School

PRE-CONFERENCE TOURS: 9:30am – 12:00pm

1. It's Elementary!

Sandlapper Elementary School, Richland School District Two

Join Ashley Paddock, Library Media Specialist at Sandlapper Elementary School on this tour of the Sandlapper Elementary School Library Media Center. After the tour, you will learn what it takes to have a cutting edge library media program from Ashley and other elementary school library media specialists from the Columbia area. Find out how they use biometrics, digital yearbooks, Vbrick, SMARTboards, wikis, and teleconferencing in their library media programs! Tour is limited to 45 participants.
Elementary School

2. Stuck in the Middle

Dutch Fork Middle School, School District Five of Lexington and Richland Counties

Power up your middle school Library Media Program! Visit Dutch Fork Middle School Library Media Center and hear a plethora of best practice ideas on collaboration and curriculum design incorporating technology from a group of seasoned library media specialists. Successful collaborative lessons across content areas on a variety of topics such as the Holocaust, colonialism, diseases, and dictators will be shared. Find out how they are creating exceptional units of study school-wide by teaming with the literacy coaches. See how technology is featured in instructional plans, including podcasting, Moviemaker, Inspiration, and other programs. Discover new ideas for promoting reading such as hosting an incentive called "The Biggest Reader," based on a popular television show. Tour is limited to 45 participants. Middle School

3. Let's Take it Higher

Dreher High School, Richland School District One

Come with Janet Kenney and Laura Haverkamp, Library Media Specialists at Dreher High School as well as other dynamic high school library media specialists from the Columbia area as they take you on a tour of the new Dreher High School Library Media Center. Hear how they are supporting teachers and students by hosting special promotions during Banned Books Week, Teen Read Week, National Poetry Month, and National Library Week. Their school-wide book club with Facebook, a new Animé club and the Monty Python club will also be highlighted. This newly constructed media center features two walls of 40' glass windows, a student café, production studio and videoconferencing lab. Tour is limited to 45 participants. High School

4. We're Independent!

Heathwood Hall

Heathwood Hall has two physically connected libraries that serve the school's students, faculty and staff. One library serves students in nursery school through 4th grade and the other serves grades 5-12. Both libraries are staffed by professional librarians and they share an associate. The library programs are integrated with the curriculum, there is a visiting author program, and a book fair, which is held in the spring to kick off summer reading. On the Heathwood Hall Tour, you will be treated to a full morning of information and sharing with the library media specialists at Heathwood Hall as well as other special public/independent school library media specialists. Tour is limited to 45 participants.
Elementary, Middle, High School

5. Tour of the South Carolina State House Grounds (AM or PM)

Tour the South Carolina State House grounds and learn about what happens when the House and Senate are in session! Tour is limited to 50 participants. Cost of tour includes "Strive for $25" t-shirt (this year's conference t-shirt) - wear it proudly on the tour! Elementary, Middle, High School

Important Information

Certification Renewal Credits

The South Carolina Association of School Librarians is pleased to offer renewal credit for participation in this conference again this year. All educators employed in a SC public school district should take the Certificates of Completion provided by SCASL to their district or school coordinator to be processed for certificate renewal credit. It is up to each participant to follow the guidelines of his/her district in order to receive full credit for this Professional Development Activity. (See excerpt below and go to www.scteachers.org and click on Recertification for more information.)

Renewal Credit Guidelines:

- Renewal credits must be related to the educator's professional growth plan and/or support the goals of the employing educational entity, and, therefore, are subject to the approval of the educational district or entity. A pre-approval form for this professional activity may be required.
- An educator may earn renewal credits only through activities for which all eligibility criteria have been met.
- The educator is responsible for maintaining all required renewal credit verification and documentation.
- The educator will be responsible for turning in the verification to the appropriate district/entity renewal credit plan coordinator for processing.
